Dear Glen Morris Families,

Classroom teachers are actively involved in teaching curriculum expectations and assessing student learning everyday. Students are continually encouraged to reach their learning goals. Teacher instruction and next steps for students are based on ongoing student progress and assessments. These best practices will continue throughout the year. If you have any questions about your child, please feel free to talk to the classroom teacher.

Kind Regards,

Ms. Reuben

The Elementary Progress Report Card

The Elementary Progress Report Card is first in the series of reporting student achievement to parents. It is designed to show a student's development of the learning skills and work habits during the fall of the school year. The progress report card outlines a student's general progress in working towards the achievement of the curriculum expectations. Teachers use the progress report to inform parents if their child is progressing very well, well, or with difficulty. Glen Morris Central will send the Elementary Progress Report Cards home on the 14th of November.

The Parent-Teacher Interview

Information provided in the progress report often needs more explanation. That's why the Parent-Teacher Interviews are important and timed with the release of the Elementary Progress Report Card. The interview is also an opportunity to talk about the progress of your child's social development in addition to the information provided in the progress report. Glen Morris Central will hold our Parent-Teacher Interviews on the evening of November 15 and the morning of November 16. Please fill in the interview request form sent home with your child today and Mrs. McCormick will send you a confirmation of your interview time with your child's classroom teacher. Come prepared with questions and concerns.

School Achievement Plans

One component of our school achievement plan is to focus on Mathematics. The goal for Glen Morris staff is to have our students improve their ability to answer multi-step questions, with higher order thinking responses and gain a better understanding on how they are being assessed.

Our Safe Schools Plan will continue to focus on valuable character traits and academic achievements. Students will be recognized at our monthly school assembly for their achievements. Star students will have their picture and achievement posted on the Glen Morris Star bulletin board located in the front foyer. Global awareness will also remain to be part of our focus.

Our specific high yield strategies and our plans on monitoring student progress can be seen on our School Achievement Plans posted on the bulletin board by the entrance of the school.
